Dear Mr. Sheppard,

On behalf of the all of the citizens and communities within the city of San Diego and on behalf of the San Diego Police Department, I want to thank you for expressing your sincere interest in working with our police department as we explore innovative and collaborative ways to create healthier relationships between law enforcement and the public we so proudly serve.

Through your “Game Changers” program, I envision a great opportunity to solicit critical dialogue between police officers and community members. The “wellness model” you have presented, along with the long-term commitment from involved participants will likely build powerful bridges between individuals who may otherwise never have considered and appreciated the “shared goals” that exist amongst police officers and all people regardless of often assumed differences.

I am committed to on-going support of our shared goals to enhance police-community relations. I look forward to our continuing discussion as you pursue the introduction of your Game Changers program.

Sincerely,

Shelley Zimmerman, Chief of Police
San Diego Police Department
