RE: GAME CHANGERS

Dear Mr. Sheppard,

I write today in support of the efforts and goals of "Game Changers," a program designed to rebuild the community through dialogue and socialization.

The goal of Game Changers is to increase open dialogue and quality time spent to improve overall community health and police officer/community relations. By providing exposure, Game Changers provides an opportunity to bridge the gap between police officers and community members in a common ground environment. In addition, the Game Changer model provides the necessary interaction which is vital in fostering a relationship and building trust within the community.

Game Changers has defined some of the issues hindering a positive relationship between peace officers and the community. Again, I am pleased to support the efforts and goals of the Game Changers program and believe that through this platform respect and familiarity can grow, making our communities safer, stronger and better protected.

Sincerely,
